

Journal of the Palaeontological Society of India
Volume, 53(1), June 2008: 107-110

ISSN 0522-9630

SHORT COMMUNICATION

A NEW REGULAR ECHINOID FROM THE MIDDLE EOCENE OF KACHCHH, WESTERN INDIA

D. K. SRIVASTAVA*, ANJALI GUPTA and A. K. JAUHRI

CENTRE OF ADVANCED STUDIES IN GEOLOGY, UNIVERSITY OF LUCKNOW, LUCKNOW- 226 007

E-mails: sirdkdr@rediffmail.com; sirdkdr@gmail.com (DKS); akjauhri@rediffmail.com (AKJ)

*Corresponding author

ABSTRACT

A phymosomatoid echinoid genus Kachchhia n. gen. (referable to K. krohi n. sp.) is described and illustrated from the middle Eocene rocks of south western Kachchh, India.

Keywords: Regular echinoid, Phymosomatoida, middle Eocene, Kachchh